

Manchester Academy for Healthcare Scientist Education (MAHSE) Seeks Patient Involvement in Clinical Science Education Programmes

Do you want to influence how the future NHS workforce thinks about patient-centred care?

Do you want to share your story with NHS-trainees?

Are you passionate about patients having a voice within their healthcare service?

Patients are at the heart of everything the NHS does and therefore the experiences of patients are an important aspect of the training that new healthcare professionals receive. The NHS workforce needs to know what patients think about the service they provide. The next generation of NHS workers need to value the views and experiences of patients from the start of their training.

MAHSE is seeking up to eleven new patient and public representatives for its Masters and Doctoral level training programmes. These roles attract a nominal fee (£21.14/hour) and all reasonable expenses will be paid.

There are many ways that you can get involved, from providing a patient view of an academic lecture, helping deliver classroom sessions, being involved in the assessment of students or assisting the programme team in evaluating the course.

Please share the information with anyone who you think might like to get involved. Further information and an application form are available on our website; <http://mahse.co.uk/for-the-public/patient-and-public-involvement/> or we can be contacted using the information below.

If you have any further questions please telephone Nazifa on 0161 306 2314, or email admin@mahse.co.uk

The closing date for applications is Thursday 24th August 2023
